

Second Sunday after Pentecost

Preparation for Worship

“Our sighs are good enough, more than enough. And there are times our sighs and groans are holy, and when offer them up to the Lord. We can trust their efficacy because the Spirit is at work in them, at work deep in us, interceding on our behalf, sharing our sighs and giving expression to what is deeper than words. Even the Spirit cannot find the words to pray for us or maybe the Spirit doesn’t need words. The Spirit sighs and groans and cries and conveys to God what needs to be communicated to God and works on our behalf, working together with “all things” for good, our good, and the good of the world” (Romans 8:28).

WORSHIP NOTES

NURSERY

Childcare is available for infants through 4K. Our nurturing staff of experienced caregivers and parent volunteers offers a welcoming environment for children. The Nursery is located on the mezzanine level. The entrance is at Westminster Drive, at the columbarium or near the Westminster Weekday School offices. The Family Lounge, located down the stairs from the front office and straight down the hallway on the right, is available for any child caregiver and includes worship livestream, comfortable seating, and a changing table.

WORSHIP BAGS

Each Sunday we offer worship bags in the Atrium for children. The worship bags are designed to include reusable items that engage children in open ended play during worship. While children attend worship with their families, they can participate in worship and play to make meaning in faith. Please return the zipper bag and its contents each Sunday.

BAPTISM

This morning we welcome into our fellowship Olivia James Arbra and Callum Andrew Arbra, children of Chase & Megan Arbra.

ACTS: CHARACTERS AND CONGREGATIONS

The book of Acts was written by the author of Luke, and the themes in both books echo one another. From the story of Pentecost to Paul's missionary travels, Acts narrates the characters, conflicts, and congregations of the earliest Christian community. Following the success of our Luke series, we will, this summer, preach through the book of Acts, meeting new characters and exploring Paul's journeys, overhearing conflicts around inclusion and ritual, and mapping the lessons that the first church can teach the modern church. This week's theme is violence, discord, and sinfulness in the community of faith.

GIVING TO WPC

Did you know that you can fulfill your pledge or give an unpledged gift to Westminster online? Your gift helps our church keep faith with community partners and maintain excellence in our programming. To learn more about online giving, or to make a gift, follow the prompts from the QR code below.

VOLUME LXXVIII | June 22, 2025 | No. 11

From the Pews, Skip Gordon

Stephen made the ultimate sacrifice – his life – in support of his beliefs in Jesus and the Word. So beyond giving one’s life, what is a sacrifice?

We recently celebrated Memorial Day where we honored those military people who gave sacrifices to preserve our freedoms. These included those who gave the ultimate sacrifice — death — as well those who gave life changing sacrifices from injuries, exposure to Agent Orange, and PTSD. My personal military sacrifice was to give up two years of my life. In addition, I was rewarded with a free year long trip to Vietnam. Those honored on Memorial Day certainly gave sacrifices.

We constantly talk about sacrifices in our ordinary lives. Taking time to travel across the country to support a friend in medical need could be considered a sacrifice. So could be jumping into the ocean to help save a stranger in apparent swimming difficulty. But is foregoing a Starbucks latte and instead giving that money to a homeless shelter a sacrifice?

As ordinary Christians, what is the meaning of sacrifice? Certainly, we are not expected to give our life as Stephen did. But what are we supposed to do? We are called to live out our lives by acting as living sacrifices to God. This means submitting our desires and actions to God’s purpose – living in a way that honors him.

OK, so what does this mean? We can honor God through praise and worship through prayer, music, and other forms of worship. We can give up personal pleasures or desires for the sake of others or for the glory of God. We can do good by sharing our possessions, time, and talents to help those in need and to stand up to injustice. Finally, we can let God guide our way instead of putting our demands first.

Sacrifice does not equal suffering. Yes, Stephen suffered. But anyone who has given of their time, talents, or gifts knows that as the giver you often receive more than what you give. While in Vietnam, I took advantage of a giving opportunity and briefly taught English in a local school. The joy I received from that brief time away from normal activities was incalculable and still warms my heart.

Living in today’s fast paced world with social media, influencers, targeted ads, and crisis politics is very difficult. It is also very difficult to live a fully Christian sacrificed life. However, the closer we get to this ideal life, the better centered our lives will be. And we will be better able to honor God and his wishes.

The broad and sweeping tune with which this hymn is so closely identified was created to be sung during a reverent but dramatic procession at the beginning of an All Saints' Day service, an enacted representation of the enduring "fellowship divine" celebrated by this text.

Sometimes this prolific 19th-century hymnwriter wrote texts for others to set, and sometimes she created words for tunes others had composed. This text was of the second kind, and the resulting close fit between words and music has made them both popular and inseparable.
